F C F
Oh flower of Scotland, When will we see your like again
Bes F C F
That fought and died for, Your wee bit, Hill and glen

Refrein:

Bes F Bes F
And stood against him, Proud Edward's army
Bes F Eb F
And sent him homeward, To think again

F C F
The hills are bare now, And autumn leaves lie thick and stil
Bes F C F
O'er land that is lost now, Which those so, dearly held

Refrein:

F C F
Those days are passed now, And in the past they must remain
Bes F C F
But we can still rise now, And be the nation a-gain

Refrein:
