In a neat little town they call Belfast, now apprentid to trade I was bound,
And many an hour's of sweet happiness, have I spent in that neat little town
Till sad misfortune came over me, which caused me to stray from the land
Far away from my friends and rela-ations, betrayed by the black velvet band

Refrein: Her eyes they shone like diamonds,
I thought her the queen of the land, and her hair it hung over her shoulder, tied up with a black velvet band.

I took a stroll with that pretty fair maid, and a gentleman passing us by
I knew she meant the doing of him, by the look in her roguish black eye.
And a gold watch she took from his pocket, and placed it right into my hand
And the very first thing that I thou-ought was: 'Bad cess to the black velvet band'.

Refrein: Now before the judge and the jury next morning I had to appear.
And the judge he sa-aid to me, 'Young man, your case it is pro-oven clear
We'll give you seven years penal servitude, to be spent far away from the land, far away from your friends and rela-ations, betrayed by the black velvet band'.

Refrein: Soak em all you jolly young fellows a warning taken by me
When you are out on the town me boys, beware of the pretty colleens
She'll feed you with whiskey and porter until you are unable to stand
And the very first thing that you'll know me lads, that you're landed in Van Diemens Land

Refrein: 2x
